You have built your business but need expert advice to accomplish your vision. We specialize in the needs of small to medium sized business. All of the principals have been business owners and managed growing companies through good and trying times. We understand the pressures and challenges that a business owner endures, because we have been there. Our input, direction and consultation are from the view of an owner but with the perspective of an outsider.

Management, Marketing and Consulting LLC puts our expertise to help you increase sales, lower operating costs and provide a plan to help your business run more efficient.

Many business do a great job at a few key areas. Those key areas are usually the vital component of the product or service they sell. Companies that grow and evolve into the business that the owner envisions, must do all parts of the business well.

Bringing in an outside consultant can energize and jump start projects that you know the business needs but cannot seem to accomplish on your own.

Contact us today for a proposal on how to make your business more profitable.
